What happened to Fimer solar inverter?

In 2020, the firm expanded into the home and small commercial market with its acquisition of ABB's solar inverter business. After the acquisition, FIMER claimed to be fourth largest solar inverter supplier in the world and had three inverter manufacturing facilities - two in Italy and one in India; plus several R&D facilities.

Why did Fimer buy ABB solar inverters?

ABB enjoyed significant popularity with its residential solar inverters here in Australia, and when FIMER acquired the inverter business, it committed to honouring existing ABB warranties. Cracks started appearing in the firm during the COVID-19 pandemic due to lockdowns and component/raw material shortages.
