What does national grid do?

We're improving access to affordable energy, opening doors to STEAM education and supporting our communities through volunteerism and disaster response. National Grid delivers reliable and resilient energy to more than 20 million people in New York and Massachusetts, all while transforming our energy networks for the future.

Where is National Grid located?

The National Grid area includes East & West Midlands, South Wales and the South West. We use the data from our energy distribution network to calculate local energy mixes to generate results within this area. National Grid is the company responsible for electricity distribution in the Midlands, South West and Wales.

What is a National Grid customer?

The Customer is an entity authorized by the seller to act as its agent in all dealings with National Grid. The Customer accepts full responsibility for all acts committed by such agent.
